AN Indiana Bergh lately caused the arrest of a drover, charged with maltreating his herds of cows. The Judge announced that the utmost penalty within his power to inflict for offences of this character was a fine of $10. The prosecutor felt, however, that this would be letting the cruel drover off too easily, and argued that the abuse of each separate animal constituted an offence, triumphantly carried this point, and forced the inhuman herdsmen to contribute for his drove of thirty cows $300 for the benefit of the State.

THE fishermen of Grand Menau have a patois of their own. When one of them speaks of his "brush," you do not at first suspect that he refers to his hair. His boots are "stompers," while his knife is a "throater," and his apron a "barvil." His hook is a "dragon," and his boats "pinkies," "pogies," and "jiggers." He counts time by the tide, and covenants with the parson to marry him to Suke at about "slack water." The various preparations of flour and meal as the "fish smother," "duff," and "jo-flaggers," hard bread and apples are "grunt." He applies "she" to everything from his wife to a cart wheel or clock.

A FEW days ago, a house of ill-fame in Detroit was entered by a man of middle age and serious countenance, who informed the women that he intended to offer up prayer for their spiritual welfare, and proceeded to do so, dropping on his knees. The inmates of the house, not desiring his devotional exercises, took advantage of his position and rolled him out of doors. But there their triumph ended. Rising to his feet he rushed back into the house, striking out vigorously with the carnal weapons of nature in a style that would have done credit to the prize-ring. Having by such knock-down arguments cleared a space, he again knelt down and finished his prayer. The astonished sufferers by this development of muscular Christianity, subdued into silence, heard themselves described and their cases stated in prayer, with a plainness befitting the occasion.

AT the Democratic Convention in Philadelphia, it was proposed to nominate Judge Paxson, already the Republican candidate for Judge. Several prominent gentlemen spoke in favor of this, among others, Mr. Geo. F. Borie, who said that if Judge Paxson has so much strength as is stated, why should they hesitate to put him on the ticket? He is no politician; he has gained the love of his colleagues on the bench, the admiration of the bar, and the confidence of the community. No harm would be done by putting his name on their ticket. If credit was to be gained by his election, the Democratic party ought to gain part of that credit. They ought to sacrifice prejudice, and set a good example. A few years ago the Republicans nominated a Democrat, Judge Sharswood, for the District Court, knowing his name would add strength to their ticket, and they profited by their policy. But finally, Mr. Borie withdrew the name of Mr. Paxson, amidst great applause.

ON Saturday, 18th inst., an uncommon incident occurred in Ashland county. Mr. Elisha Ballou, an aged and respectable citizen, who had been walking about the place as usual, came in and stood by the bedside of his wife, who had been ill for some weeks. In a few minutes he fell heavily on the floor and almost instantly expired. Mrs. Ballou hearing her husband fall, though weak, raised herself up and seeing her husband lying dead upon the floor, sank down, and within the space of about one hour's time, she too was dead.

WE had heard previous to our conversation with one of our County Infirmary Directors, that an inmate of the Infirmary had a live reptile in her stomach, but regarded it as one of those "snake stories" we read about. He, however, assures us that the facts are as stated. The individual is a Miss Hattie Brown, formerly from Lehigh county, Pennsylvania, aged nineteen years, in July next. She has a longing appetite for milk, which, when freely supplied, somewhat eases her sufferings, but when withheld for some time, the reptile raises itself in her throat, throws her into spasms, and protrudes its head from her mouth, in which condition he assures us, more than fifty persons have seen it. It has a flat eel like head, black skin, and darts its head so swiftly, as hitherto to baffle the skill of physicians and others who have attempted to relieve the patient of the monster. He assures us he was as incredulous as we are until he personally witnessed the phenomenon. We confess that we feel unsatisfied with the evidence, notwithstanding this testimony of an eye witness.—Shelby News.

Hot Weather--Female Seminary--The Commencement--Examination--Concert--Essays--Degrees Conferred--Address--Reply--A Social Entertainment.

[Correspondence of Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 30, 1870.

Hot, hot weather. Panting and fanning the employment of everybody. An uncomfortable time for the Commencement exercises of our Female Seminary. Still we have them.

Yesterday, public examination. Last evening, concert. Music, both instrumental and vocal. Large audience. To-day, essays of graduating class, degrees conferred and an address. Class numbers eleven; fine young ladies; performances excellent. Mrs. Hanna, Principal of the Seminary, conferred degrees; did it gracefully. Rev. W. A. Davidson delivered an address. It was somewhat radical in its views. To this Major Ewing took exception in a neat and very happy speech. Some present, however, thought it a little untimely, and not in the best taste. The Major's heart is in the right place, but his head was made in the olden time; it needs reconstruction to adapt it to the progress of the age.

To-night Mrs. Hanna gives a grand reception at the Seminary. A large number of invitations issued. A good time anticipated. Oh! for a sudden fall of the thermometer! It is going down. We breathe easier.

New Brighton Ladies' Seminary.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW BRIGHTON, July 1, 1870.

This worthy institution has just closed its first term, and Prof. Johnson and lady have proved their competency to conduct a first class Seminary.

It has been my privilege to visit them both in the parlor and in the recitation room, and I have always found them agreeable companions, and competent instructors.

Their examinations, some of which I witnessed, passed off creditably to both the teachers and the taught.

The musical department, presided over with decided ability by Miss Mary A. Housekeeper, is an interesting and important feature.

They gave a very good literary and musical entertainment at Concert Hall last night.

They intend to open a normal session in a few days for the benefit of those desiring to teach. We recommend it to such with all confidence.

THE London Athenæum says, that at the present moment it is difficult to speak with precision on the question whether "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" is completed. A PARIS correspondent writes that the Duc de Gramont has restored an excellent custom at the Foreign office, which his predecessor, Count Daru, who was a candle's end economist, abolished. There are two waiting rooms at the French Foreign Affairs, one for ambassadors, the other for the public, to whom an interview has been accorded. Attached to both rooms is a buffet where those waiting will find every delicacy of the season, and a saloon to smoke in, with plenty of choice cigars to while away the time till the turn of each arrives. If a dinner lubricates business, a stand-up lunch cannot be without its advantages.

THE Runn of Cutch is the name of a curious region in India. It is a level plain, one hundred and fifty miles long, and saturated with salt, and so firm that the hoofs of horses and camels make scarcely any impression upon it. It is so flat that a heavy fall of rain makes a vast slop, which is blown about on the surface until it evaporates. At certain seasons the wind blows the tide from the Indian Ocean in upon the plain and covers it to the depth of one or two feet. There being absolutely no land marks, caravans and travelers frequently are lost; and to guard against this peril a beacon fire is regularly lighted on the side of the hills of Cutch by a Mohammedan family who live there and to whom has descended the religious duty of thus guiding the wanderers over this remarkable desert.

A TRIAL has just taken place at Calcutta, involving the right of a Hindoo woman to choose her own religion. A young woman, whose friends belong to the Brahmo Somaj, forsook the tenets of her fathers and was baptized. Her relatives got a writ of habeas corpus and secured influential council, but the judge decided against them, and gave the woman her liberty. She at once, in open court, in the most unhesitating way, intimated that she would not return to her relatives. However, before judgment was recorded she was again removed to a private room, in order that her mother might again try to shake her resolution. No Christian friend was permitted to enter. Presently, wails and shrieks and howlings of grief were heard. After a painful interval, the young woman was again called forth, evidently much agitated, but she had not been shaken in her resolve to be a Christian.

THERE is only one prison for women in Paris, that of St. Lazare, and which figures as the abomination of desolation in every French romance. No nice attention is paid to the moral classification of the inmates; the most hardened femme publique or thief—and they are about synonymous—are thrown pell mell with the poor girl or woman, whom a small crime condemns to this lazar house for a week, and, on being discharged, sinks at once into the depths, with a mind full of the seeds of pollution. An old lady desired to reform this prison; she wished to see it not in parade dress. She took up lodgings close by it, for some years ingratiated herself with the officers till she was allowed to have the run of the wards. She took notes, got herself up in the matter, demanded an audience of the Empress, threw herself on her knees, urged Her Majesty to use her power to remedy what she—the petitioner—knew. The result is, that an institution is being formed where girls, otherwise virtuous, will be taken in refuge on leaving the prison, and protected until a re-introduction can be obtained for them into society. It is no secret that there is a class of wretches who watch for the exit of these poor females from prison, and make tempting offers of money, dress and appointments, guarantee a veneer of the polish of the grand monde in exchange for their virtue.

IN the Courier d'Oran a frightful crime is recorded, which, even in the unhappy country of Algeria, has hardly been paralleled. On the 27th of May, at Mascara, about seven o'clock in the morning, an Arab, who had been known as a wandering marabout, living upon alms, secreted from a butcher's shop an axe, and, hiding it under his bournous, posted himself upon a bridge. This particular bridge, especially on Friday, is crowded with people going to market—Arabs, Jews and Europeans being indiscriminately mixed. Into this crowd the fanatic rushed, striking from behind with his axe, and in less than ten minutes felling fourteen persons to the ground. A terrible consternation took possession of all present. The neighboring shopkeepers closed their shops, the wounded were carried away, but no one seemed to have attempted to seize the miscreant. At last two Spahis, after a desperate struggle, secured him, and he was conveyed to the Bureau Arabe Militaire, where, after some delay, the civil and military authorities arrived to inquire into the matter. It is noteworthy that the victims were selected solely from the European population, the Arabs not only being spared, but exhorted to help in the slaughter. As the Arabs were mustered in large numbers at the time, from 1500 to 2000, and always carry long knives, any infection of fanaticism might have had fearful results. As it is, the lives of several of the wounded persons are despaired of.

A Balloon Duel.

Perhaps the most remarkable duel ever fought took place in 1808. It was peculiarly French in its tone, and could hardly have occurred under any other than a French state of society. M. de Grandpre and M. Le Pique had a quarrel, arising out of jealously concerning a lady engaged at the Imperial Opera, one Mademoiselle Trevit. They agreed to fight a duel to settle their respective claims; and in order that the heat of angry passion should not interfere with the polished elegance of the proceeding, they postponed the duel for a month—the lady agreeing to bestow her smiles on the survivor of the two, if the other was killed; or, at all events, this was inferred by the two men, if not actually expressed. The duelists were to fight in the air. Two balloons were constructed, precisely alike. On the day denoted, De Grandpre and his second entered the car of one balloon, Le Pique and his second that of the other; it was in the garden of the Tuileries amid an immense concourse of spectators. The gentlemen were to fire, not at each other, but at each other's balloons, in order to bring them down by the escape of gas, and as pistols might hardly have served for this purpose, each aeronaut took a blunderbuss in his car. At a given signal the ropes that retained the cars were cut, and the balloons ascended. The wind was moderate, and kept the balloons at about their original distance of eighty yards apart. When about half a mile above the surface of the earth, a preconcerted signal for firing was given. M. de Pique fired but missed. M. de Grandpre fired and sent a ball through Le Pique's balloon. The balloon collapsed, the car descended with frightful rapidity, and Le Pique and and his second were dashed to pieces. De Grandpre continued his ascent triumphantly, and terminated his aerial voyage successfully at a distance of seven leagues from Paris.

A Wild Chicago Beauty.

A friend recently directed my attention to what she was pleased to call the "hoydenish ways" of a young lady who is noted on our thoroughfares for her beauty and sprightliness, and at home for her innocence and pleasing good nature, allied to a fondness for all kinds of adventurous boyish sports. I watched her closely on thus being reminded of her presence, and noticed that she was over-dressed, a fault, doubtless, of some presiding power; that she wore rings and bracelets on a shapely arm; that her small feet were tightly bestowed in high-heeled boots; and out of a mass of drapery and artificial restriction, nature was constantly bubbling over. For she did the most unheard-of things in the few moments that I watched her—went down on her knees to help a forlorn child find five cents with which she was required to purchase yeast, posed herself before a head of Beatrice in a picture window, and never noticed the "nice young man" within staring at her; stood on one foot on the corner and cheered two dogs engaged in mortal combat; gave a penny to an urchin who made faces at her, tied up an unraveled old woman who had lost her way; looked back and laughed at the vagaries of a drunken man who imagined himself particularly sober, whistled three bars of "Shoo Fly" under her breath in response to a boyish alleygator, laughed in the face of an insipid young man with blonde features, and then ignored him with a glance of contempt; then suddenly changed into a very proper lackadaisical young lady as her aunt's carriage came in sight. Do you know it seemed to me that girl felt at every step that too much civilization was a curse?—Home Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.

More About the Destruction of Pera--Horrible Scenes--Extent of the Conflagration.

Some shocking details of the late fire at Pera are published in a letter in the London Morning Post, of June 15. Incidents of the most painful description (the writer says) have not been wanting. Whole families have been found, the members locked in each other's death embrace. Some few have been removed from the cellars of their houses still groaning in life, but only to expire on exposure to the air. I hear that the number of houses burnt down is computed generally at 8,000. I understand that the total amount falling due from London insurance companies is estimated at somewhat over £100,000. On the evening of the fire the Sultan rode up from his palace to the scene of disaster, but his Majesty's approach was cut off at the Taxim by the showers of sparks and the heat. In the morning his Majesty in person superintended the turning out of the troops from some large artillery barracks just beyond the Taxim, to make room for distressed families, and also ordered some 2,000 tents to be immediately pitched in the parade grounds adjoining. Here are now located some thousands of burnt-out poor people, who receive their daily rations of rice, bread, oil and meat at his Majesty's expense. The Sultan has also issued strict orders to the imaums, or priests of Mussulman quarters, to in no way hinder the letting of houses to distressed Christians.

A Busy Executioner.

A letter from Athens, speaking of the execution of the brigands concerned in the murder of the English travelers, says their decapitation was delayed in consequence of the absence of the public executioner on a professional tour. The following list of the performances is given:

Last Friday week he beheaded three brigands at Stylina, on Saturday two at Lamia, on Monday two at Hypath; he was then at Levadeia, where he was to execute a notorious criminal. He was then to go to Chalcis and to Athens to behead, afterward, the seven under sentence of death. His next destination is Corinth, where he is to execute five brigands who have been for some time waiting the execution of their sentence. One of the brigands beheaded at Stylina had been condemned to death five times. These executions, it might be imagined, would be a heavy blow and great discouragement to brigandage, but it is not so. Either the system or sympathy with it seems rooted among the mass of the Greek people, and by no means the people of the lower order exclusively.

M. GARNIER, a member of the French Cambodian expedition, asserts that in China the taste for opium is by no means confined to the human race. Pigs and horses thrive upon poppy flowers, and when deprived of their favorite food languish and die. At a town in Yunan rats used to resort in large number to an opium manufactory in order to inhale the fumes from the coppers, and after the town had been sacked by the Panthays, the ruins of the factory were visited by its old habitues, who were content to die on the scene of their former happiness.

—The New York Methodist says: We learn by a cable dispatch, received June 24th, from Dr. Hurst, that the German and Swiss Conference, which met at Carlsruhe June 23d, has cast all its votes—thirty-nine—for lay delegation. The total affirmative vote of the ministry by this addition reaches 4,946. The total negative remains 1,589, and the grand aggregate becomes 6,535. Three-fourths of 6,535 is 4,901. This puts the result beyond all contingency.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: Progress with the Tax-Tariff Bill—The Income Tax Sections Restored. HOUSE: The Funding Bill Further Considered and Passed.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 1, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. ANTHONY was elected President pro tem in consequence of the absence of the Vice President, till after July 4.

The House bill to change the time of holding the terms of District and Circuit Courts of the Northern District of Ohio was passed.

The House amendments to the bill for the improvement of water communication between the Mississippi river and Lake Michigan, by the Wisconsin and Fox rivers, was concurred in.

The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad bill was briefly discussed, and an ineffectual effort was made by Mr. WILSON to get the conference report on the army bill.

The tax bill was taken up, the question being upon the amendment to tax interest on United States bonds five per cent. It was supported by Messrs. Bayard, Thurman, Davis, Stockton, Casserly and opposed by Messrs. Edmunds, Sherman, Corbett, Rice, Morton and Fenton, and was rejected by 12 to 36.

A discussion ensued upon an amendment by Mr. THURMAN to tax the income derived from bonds of five per cent.

Mr. WARNER moved as a substitute a three per cent. tax on incomes derived from all invested capital.

Both amendments were rejected.

Amendments offered by Mr. Bayard were adopted, allowing free importation of animals intended for exhibition at agricultural shows, but not to remain over six months, and if sold within the United States they were to be liable to duty; also to repeal the taxes on bequests and devises to literary, institutions, to take place after the death of the testator.

The Finance Committee amendment as to the time at which the free list goes into operation, having withdrawn the paragraph, it remains as passed by the House, fixing the time for December 31st.

The bill was reported from Committee of the Whole to the Senate when the amendments were concurred in, except those upon which separate votes were asked, which were reserved.

The first of those in which concurrence was asked was the amendment striking out the income tax sections.

Mr. WILSON moved an amendment continuing the income tax for two years longer at two and a half per cent. Rejected.

Mr. DRAKE moved to make the exemption one thousand dollars. Rejected.

The Senate then voted upon the amendment of the Committee of the Whole striking out the income tax sections, which was concurred in, the vote being recorded finally as yeas 26, nays 21.

The next amendment upon which a separate vote was demanded was the section inserted by the Committee of the Whole continuing the tax on salaries and dividends for 1870.

The section was amended to provide that the tax cease August 1, 1870.

The amendment was then concurred in.

Mr. SHERMAN moved an amendment to continue the tax on gross receipts as at present, remarking the Senate dare not dispense with taxes necessary for the suport of the Government.

Mr. EDMUNDS gave notice that in consequence of the vote just taken he would move to reconsider the vote striking out the income tax sections.

Evening Session.—The Senate resumed the tax bill.

Mr. EDMUNDS moved to reconsider the vote striking out the income tax, remarking that by the showing of the chairman of the Finance Committee the country must have either the income tax or tax on receipts to make up the required amount of revenue.

Mr. ANTHONY took similar ground, that the Senate was bound to choose between these taxes.

Mr. SUMNER thought there was no occasion for either tax, and that the chairman of the Finance Committee was inclined to follow too far the idea of the Secretary of the Treasury of the speedy extinguishment of the national debt.

Mr. Edmunds' motion prevailed—26 to 25, and the income sections being again before the Senate, Mr. WILSON renewed his amendment continuing the income tax until the end of 1872, at the rate of two and a half instead of five per cent.

After a lengthy discussion the amendment was agreed to—yeas 27, nays 22.

The question then being on striking out the sections imposing the income tax as amended, Senate refused to strike them out, thus reversing its former action.

Yeas—Messrs. Bayard, Casserly, Corbett, Fenton, Gilbert, Hamilton, (Md.) Harris, Johnson, Kellogg, Lewis, McCreery, McDonald, Osborne, Pomeroy, Robertson, Scott, Stewart, Stockton, Sumner, Thurman, Trumbull, Vickers—22.

Nays—Messrs. Abbott, Anthony, Chandler, Cragin, Drake, Edmunds, Hamlin, Harlan, Howe, Howell, Morrell (Maine), Morrell (Vt), Patterson, Pool, Pratt, Ramsey, Rice, Ross, Schurz, Sherman, Spencer, Tipton, Warner, Wiley, Williams and Wilson—26.

On motion of Mr. HAMILTON, the classification of rates on sugar as originally reported from the Finance Committee was substituted for the House classification.

Mr. SCHURZ renewed his amendment authorizing the transportation of goods in bond from a port of entry to a port of delivery of a city of not less than 150,000 inhabitants.

Mr. HOWE moved to allow transportation to cities of 50,000 inhabitants.

After considerable discussion the Senate finding itself without a quorum, at 12:20 adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. MAYNARD, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill remitting and releasing all legacy and succession tax on devises or bequests made by Mathew Vasser to Vassor College.

Messrs. Paine, Benjamin and other members desired to offer amendments for a like provision in reference to institutions in their districts, but Mr. Maynard declined to admit them and the bill passed.

On motion of Mr. STILES, it was ordered the House adjourn to-morrow till Tuesday.

Quite a number of private bills were passed. One for the extension of the wood scroll patent was opposed by Mr. DAWES, whose motion to table it was rejected—85 to 86. The bill went over at the expiration of the morning hour.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution requesting the President to demand of the British government under what pretense of right and under whose order American fishing vessels were arrested and detained in the Straits of Cano, on the way to the fishing grounds, by vessels flying the British flag. Adopted.

The House resumed the consideration of the Funding bill.

No amendments were made to the second or thirty-eighth sections.

On motion of Mr. SCHENCK the fourth section was amended by striking out the words, "in the order of their number and issue, beginning with the first numbered and issued."

Mr. HOLMAN would amend the fourth section by providing that five-twenty bonds shall be paid in greenbacks, and made an argument in support of the amendment.

Mr. SCHENCK argued that that question was finally settled by the passage of the act of the present Congress "to strengthen the public credit," and declared that the worst and meanest, the foulest of all possible repudiation, would be now for Congress to ignore and trample upon its own very first act of legislation.

Mr. WOODWARD contended that any judicial authority would decide that the 5-20 bonds were payable in greenbacks under the law of 1862, and cited the declaration of Thaddeus Stevens to that effect.

Mr. SCHENCK argued if there had been any ambiguity in the law of 1862, that ambiguity had been removed by the law of the 18th March, 1866.

Mr. JUDD moved to amend the fourth section by striking out the words "which in his opinion and discretion can conveniently be applied to that purpose," and inserting the words, "derived under the provisions of this act." He explained his object by stating that if this bill became a law the Secretary of the Treasury might withhold selling single a four per cent. bond, but go to work to redeem the 5-20 bonds in coin, and he wished such right to redeem limited to the proceeds derived under this bill.

Mr. VOORHEES sustained the position of Mr. Woodward, and instanced the language of Senator Sherman in its support.

Mr. Holman's amendment was rejected—47 to 128.

The Republicans who voted aye were Messrs. Beatty, Coburn, Orth and Tyler. The Democrats who voted no, were Messrs. Barnum, Brooks, (N. Y.,) Randall, Slocum, Stone and Swann.

Mr. JUDD modified his amendment by inserting the words "which may be derived from the sale of any bonds, the issue of which is provided for in this act."

Mr. SCHENCK moved to amend Mr. Judd's amendment by preceding it with these words, "which he may lawfully apply to such purpose, or"—

Both amendments were agreed to so as to make the fourth section read "that the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and instructed to purchase with any coin in the Treasury of the United States which he may lawfully apply to such purpose, or which may be derived from the sale of any bonds the issue of which is provided for in this act."

Mr. BUTLER, Massachusetts, moved to amend the fourth section by forbidding the redemption of Five-twenties in coin at par, until greenbacks are convertible into coin, or until bonds bearing less rate of interest can be sold at par for coin.

This was debated at some length by Messrs. Butler, Bingham, Allison, Schenck, Davis and Lawrence.

Mr. BUTLER gave as a reason for the amendment that under the fifth section of the bill all the gold in the country might be borrowed by the Treasury and seventy-five per cent. of the amount used in redeeming 5-20s at par, although at the same time greenbacks might be ten, twenty or thirty per cent. below par.

The amendment was rejected—84 to 108.

Mr. GRISWOLD moved to strike out the section. Rejected.

No further amendments were offered to the fourth section.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, moved to strike out the fifth section, which authorizes the Treasurer to receive gold on deposit and issue certificates therefor bearing three per cent. interest, and to use seventy per cent. of the amount in the redemption of outstanding bonds. He declared that a more dangerous and destructive proposition had never been put into a bill. It would place the United States Government at the mercy of foreign bankers.

Mr. SCHENCK defended the section as essential to the operation of the bill. The argument of the gentleman from Massachusetts had been directed to the apprehension that too much gold might be poured into the treasury. It was an argument not to strike out the section, but to limit the amount to be received. In defending the bill the Committee of Ways and Means had in mind to put a limitation to the amount to be redeemed, but they afterwards thought it better to leave it to the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary might retain fifty per cent or any other proportion.

In reply to a question by Mr. Cox, Mr. Schenck announced the expectation that within this and the coming year these four per cent. bonds would be taken. His reasons for thinking so were to be found in various articles in European journals speaking favorably of the credit of the United States and its chances of obtaining a loan at this low rate of interest. In addition to that, some of the members of the Committee of Ways and Means, himself included, had had within the last week assurances from banks and bankers in France of their readiness to take bonds at four per cent., if they could be of the kind described in the first section of the bill, that is long bonds redeemable after thirty years, free from taxation, only payable in coin and of small denominations running down to fifty years.

Mr. COX remarked that that announcement was the most important part of the debate. If he could be assured moneyed men and institutions in Europe were willing to take these bonds and save the American people the difference between the two rates of interest, he did not know but he would vote for it, particularly if some of its bad features were eliminated. He was reluctant to give up that great power of sovereignty, the right to tax these bonds. That right ought to be reserved if possible. If these bonds could go into market with that reservation, he would favor the bill.

Several members on the Democratic side, including Messrs. Morgan and Van Trump, challenged the position taken by Mr. Cox, though it was not very clear from the confused mode of expression what the exact difficulty was, except that it was thought Mr. Cox was rather representing Wall street than Tammany Hall.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Kelley, Randall, Coburn, Jones, Ky., Davis, N. Y., Wood and Mungen.

Mr. WOOD criticised the Committee of Ways and Means as being subject to great deception and imposition on the part of capitalists and as being guilty of gross impropriety in attempting to palm off on the House and country information thus obtained.

Mr. MAYNARD called Mr. Wood to order for charging the Committee of Ways and Means with gross impropriety, and the words were ruled out by the Speaker as unparliamentary.

Mr. WOOD would not repeat it, but would not take it back.

The question was put, and he was allowed to proceed in order.

The discussion on the section was closed by Mr. Schenck.

An amendment by Mr. DAVIS, to insert after the word "bullion" the words "assayed and stamped under the laws of the United States," was agreed to.

Another amendment by Mr. DAVIS, to make the interest on gold certificates two instead of three per cent., was rejected.

Mr. Butler's motion to strike out the fifth section was negatived.

The sixth section was then read for amendments.

Mr. MAYNARD moved to add a clause requiring an annual statement of the sinking fund, which was negatived.

Mr. DAVIS, of New York, offered an additiontional section providing for the issue of four per cent. bonds for which greenbacks would be exchangeable and into which they would be convertible.

Mr. SCHENCK moved the previous question on the bill and amendments which was seconded.

Mr. DAVIS' amendment was rejected and the bill passed—39 to 41.

The Democratic vote was entirely in the negative. Mr. Brooks, of New York, Mr. Cox and Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, did not vote. The Republicans voting against it were Mr. Davis, of New York, and Mr. Stevenson of Ohio.

The House bill was then adopted as a substitute for the Senate bill.

Adjourned.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 1.—There was a fierce debate last evening in the Corps Legislatif upon the proposition fixing the army contingent at ninety thousand men. The Republican members opposed, and sharply attacked the Ministry, calling upon Ollivier to maintain his principles or resign.

There is no apparent diminution in the ravages of the small pox.

Sitting of the Corps Legislatiff yesterday was much agitated by the discussion of the military contingent. The government asked for 90,000 instead of 100,000 men, the usual number. Mr. Jules Favre made a spirited and eloquent speech against the continuance of the largest standing army. M. Thiers thought the state of Europe menacing and France should be prepared. M. Favre quoted from the yellow book official assurances of the peace and tranquility of the continent and wanted to know what such military establishment was kept for, unless hidden plans and schemes in favor of dynasty were entertained. He closed by declaring he believed the Ministry honest, but it was subject to a higher will. M. Ollivier answered charges made against the government and its policy. He had no fear for the future. France had gained her Sadowa in the plebiscitum. Much dissatisfaction was here expressed by deputies and Minister Ollivier explained he had no intention of exulting over any of the subjects of the empire. These words increased the agitation in the chamber. M. Favre rose to reply, but it was impossible to make himself heard, so loud was the noise. He refused to proceed and took his seat. The majority then voted against continuing the discussion next day and the Chamber adjourned.

Revenue of the Last Fiscal Year Nearly $400,000,000—Public Debt Reduced Over $20,000,000 During June—Treasury Policy for July—The Amnesty Question, &c., &c

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1, 1870.

FINANCIAL.

The total receipts from internal revenue for the fiscal year ending yesterday are within a fraction of $188,000,000. The total receipts from customs are estimated at $170,000,000, and from public lands and all other sources about $30,000,000. This will make an income for the Government of nearly $400,000,000. The sinking fund, up to yesterday inclusive, shows $37,665,191.63; the special sinking fund shows $86,537,776.96, or a total of $124,202,968.54 to be deducted from the national debt. The reduction of debt for the past month will reach nearly $20,500,000.

NOMINATIONS.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate to-day: Felix A. Mathews, of California, Consul to Tangier; John T. Robinson, of Tennessee, Consul to Leith; Edward Johnson, of South Carolina, Consul to Talhuano; Chas. T. Thwelt, of Alabama, Consul to Rio de Janeiro; Moses H. Grinnel, Naval Officer, New York; Thos. Murphy, Collector of Customs, New York; Thos. Hillhouse, Assistant Treasurer, New York; T. W. Oakley, United States Marshal Western District of Wisconsin; Jas. C. Hopkins, Judge District Court of Wisconsin; Noah Davis, United States Attorney Southern District of New York.

Postmasters—S. Frodshaw, Savannah, Mo.; Henry Bohn, Ripley, O.

TREASURY POLICY FOR JULY.

Secretary Boutwell will not be likely to issue a statement of the gold to be sold and bonds purchased before Sunday, which is the day he has accepted for that business. The general impression here is that the gold sales will be no larger than ordinary, notwithstanding the heavy coin balance in the Treasury. The disbursements on account of July interest and the sales of gold interest which has accumulated in the sinking fund will be heavy.

AMNESTY TO EX-REBELS.

The Committee on Reconstruction have agreed to allow Beck, of Kentucky, to offer a bill providing for general amnesty, as a substitute for the bill reported from the same Committee by Gen. Butler. The only difference in the measures is that Beck's bill excepts but seven classes from the benefits of amnesty, while Butler's makes nine exceptions.

BILLS SIGNED.

The President has signed the bills to regulate the foreign and coasting trade on the northern, northwestern and northeastern frontiers of the United States, to establish and protect National cemeteries, joint resolution authorizing the State of New Jersey to receive the Stevens battery, and act to prevent the extermination of fur bearing animals in Alaska.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The public debt statement shows a reduction during the month of June of $20,203,772 04. The coin balance is $112,776,048 83, including $34,547,120 in coin certificates; currency in Treasury $28,945,067 19. The total debt, less amount in Treasury, is $2,386,358,599 74.

INTEREST ON SINKING FUND BONDS.

The amount of interest on bonds purchased by the Secretary of the Treasury for the sinking fund and special purchase falling due to-day amounts to $2,350,000 coin, and the proceeds will be applied to the purchase of additional bonds.

Mr. Matthews, nominated as Consul at Tangier, formerly held the same position, and was removed on the ground that the government of Morocco was hostile to him. Papers to that effect sent to the State Department proved forgeries.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 1, 1870.

EXTENSIVE FIRES.

A little before one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Dunsheath's kindling wood factory, which spread rapidly, so that at half past one o'clock nearly all that part of the city embraced between the railroad and Eighth street, and including the lumber yards of Dable & Meigs, Derby, Snow & Prentiss, and others, together with a planing mill, bell factory, machine shops, &c. Green street, Washington street, and others were in a sheet of flame. The entire fire department of Jersey City turned out, but the fire had got such headway and gained so rapidly on them that all their labors could not control it. One large tenement house was destroyed and several small ones. About three years ago the same district was burned out. The fire is still spreading rapidly, and it is believed that the loss will not fall far short of $1,000,000. Immense quantities of lumber have been destroyed, and fears are entertained that the shipping may catch fire.

Shortly after midnight a fire broke out in the old locomotive works of Breese Nealin, corner of Warren and Morgan streets, Jersey City, and within an hour the building was totally consumed. It was occupied as a cooper shop by Bernard McMahon, and as a car factory by W. H. Cummings. The loss is estimated at $55,000; partly insured. The wheel foundry of Washburne & Co. caught fire several times, but was extinguished before it penetrated the building. The Continental screw factory was also on fire, but the firemen subdued the flames. McKay's locomotive works narrowly escaped. The damage to different buildings around the factory is not more than $5,000, and the total loss will probably amount to $75,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The argument in the case of the Erie Railroad against the Lake Shore was continued to-day. Ex-Senator Doolittle appeared as counsel for the defendants.

Joshua F. Bailey has been indicted for embezzlement of United States funds exceeding six hundred thousand dollars.

Jose Manuel Mestro has been recognized as the successor Senor Lemus as the diplomatic representative of the Cuban insurgents in the United States. The Rev. Dr. Milo Mahan, of Baltimore, has been chosen Professor of Systematic Divinity in Episcopal General Theological Seminary.

W. A. TOMLINSON, President of Common Council, is a candidate for Mayor.

GENERAL T. A. ROWLEY, of the Eleventh ward, is talked of as a candidate for Mayor.

MR SAMUEL ALLENDER, late City Treasurer, is lying dangerously ill with cancer in the stomach. His case is beyond medical skill, and his death hourly looked for.

JOHN W. PITTOCK, ESQ., was "watched" last evening by his friends to the "tune" of three hundred dollars. Judging from some of the "friends" we think there was some "tick" in the arrangement.

WILLIAM HOLTZHEIMER, the well known caterer of Fifth avenue, received a green sea turtle on Thursday which weighs 183 pounds. It will be served up in steaks and soup on Monday, July 4th.

MR. S. S. D. THOMPSON agent of the Ætna Fire Insurance Company of Allegheny city, has resigned his position in that Company and accepted the appointment of General Agent of the "Andes." Mr. Thompson is one of the most enterprising and practical of our many insurance agents, and while connected with the Ætna was liberally patronized by the public. The "Andes" has been extremely fortunate in securing the services of such an able and effective man in this locality, and as the stock has all been taken and $100,000 subscribed, the "Andes," with Mr. Thompson to advocate its claims, will soon assume a leading position in this section of country and become a formidable rival to the many old companies, both local and foreign, in this locality.

FIGURES WON'T LIE.—The best evidence of President Grant's efficiency, the honesty which pervades all the departments and the general success of the administration, is found in the flattering exhibit of receipts for the fiscal year ending on Thursday, which are elsewhere published.

THE CONFEREES of Beaver and Washington counties met yesterday in this city and ratified the nomination of DEMAS M. LEATHERMAN and WILLIAM A. MACKEY of Washington, and Mr. WM. C. SHURLOCK, of Beaver, as the Legislative candidates. The Republican party of these counties is thoroughly organized and the utmost harmony prevails along the whole line.

AS AN EVIDENCE of the coalition formed by the new third party with the Democrats, a correspondent directs our attention to the fact that the regularly employed Secretary is an out-and-out Democrat, and to his management is entrusted the carrying out the details of the canvass. How can any thinking Republican be deceived in the object of this movement? Will many be sold out and bought cheap by the crafty Democracy?

THE Commercial very impudently tells the regular Republican party that there is but one course for them to take in the present situation, and that is to acquiesce in the nominations that will be made by the select and committee approved convention which is to meet next week. Think of it, Republicans! You are asked to sink your own rights and follow in the lead of the immaculate five, who are to have the setting up of things in the new third party. The impudence of these bolters and the organ of brimstone corner surpasses the wonderful.

AN ARTIST of no great talent, but exceedingly large pretentions, once painted the picture of a horse and fearing that his friends might not recognize his subject wrote underneath, "the above is a horse." So, too, the new third party propose doing. They ask their friends who are to participate in the parlor primary meetings to subscribe to a paper in which the declaration is made "the undersigned is a true Republican and an honest voter." Like the artist's horse, they would hardly be recognized as true Republicans unless the tablet of information was tacked above their names.

THERE appears to be general rejoicing throughout the State, that Mr. George K. Anderson, the Petroleum Prince, who stooped to be conquered, has been so signally defeated by the honest yeomanry of Crawford. The verdict given in that county is regarded as cheering and encouraging, for it shows that the people are yet right, and that they know how to rebuke fraud and corruption, even if the guilty clothe themselves in the counterfeit garb of honesty, the better to deceive, betray and accomplish nefarious purposes. Mr. Anderson is the Crawford wing of the clique of parlor politicians who are now, under the shadow of the Commercial, endeavoring to hoodwink the people by the cry of honesty and reform in politics. He succeeded as well as will they. He was rebuked sternly and manfully by the Crawford people; they will be treated likewise by the thoughtful masses of Allegheny. His deception has been unmasked in the terrible exhibit of astounding fraud developed in the vote of Titusville, their deception glimmers through the dark lantern caucuses being held and the secret circulars sent out to those who they would seduce into taking stock in their honesty of purpose. Retribution has overtaken him; it closely chases his treacherous Allegheny colleagues.

PECCAVI!

As we anticipated, and intended to say yesterday morning that it would, the Commercial apologises for the wanton, outrageous and deliberate attack, made in its columns on Wednesday morning, on the members of our City Councils. Apology was not made voluntarily. The indignation expressed by those who were deliberately and unjustly vilified brought it to its knees, and compelled it to cry, peccavi. Its retraction is about as sincere, as that of the statesman who once declared in the heat of debate, in most unclassical and unparliamentary phrase, "Those on the opposite side are not fit to carry g—s to a bear!" and when called to order for his unbecoming language, said, "I take it back. They are all very fit." It has offered a milk and water apology, but its columns furnish indubitable evidence every morning, that it does not hold the members of the City Councils in high repute as men of honesty. But our City Fathers, who are all highly respected citizens, are not gentlemen to be trifled with. They will not allow themselves to be badgered, brow-beaten and traduced, and the rapidity with which, after merited castigation, they brought the Commercial to its knees, will cause its editors, whatever they may think, to be more cautious in regard to what they [illegible] their columns in the future.

been [illegible] and wicked [illegible] of apology, however, has generally, who [illegible] equally unprincipled same article as bond slaves [illegible] our citizens pid," and reduced to a state of [illegible] in the insolvency." The reason of this is, [illegible] impression has seized the editors of that journal since a few of the bolters have established, at its instance, on a second floor in Smithfield street, a factory for making and unmaking delegates to political conventions, that the people will not be allowed to have a voice in the management of municipal affairs, or the bestowment of official favors on needy editors.

UNFOUNDED SLANDER.

Some days since we called attention to the fact that the Commercial, of this city, following in the lead of the most bitter Democratic journals, both in and out of New York, had commenced to make slanderous attacks on President Grant. We are sorry to say that it has not as yet shown any signs of repentance or regret. On the contrary, it continues daily, either in its editorial columns, or through the medium of its correspondents, to throw out the most wicked insinuations against the President. A fresh attack was made against him yesterday in the columns of that unscrupulous journal, which charged him with creating "trouble" in the affair of the San Domingo treaty by using "the influence of his great office to get a favorable consideration" of it and producing "breaches in the Republican ranks that will be a long time in healing," because "he had not stopped with making the treaty and laying it before" the Senate, "accompanied by his reasons for thinking it had better be ratified."

The Commercial knows right well that in the investigation of the San Domingo affair, the President has been fully and triumphantly vindicated; yet it continues to circulate the slanders which have been manufactured out of the whole cloth by the opposition press.

But General Grant has got used to these slanderous attacks. They will do him no harm. The people understand the spirit in, and the object for, which they are made. The Commercial is laboring with its puny might to produce a breach in the Republican party here, and it may seem to some to be a piece of consummate strategy for it to hire men to write from Washington that there are breaches there which it will take a long time to heal. But the game will not succeed. The motives are too well known, and the loyal Republicans of Allegheny county will not allow themselves to be imposed upon. Neither will they, quietly, permit a journal which has ingloriously cut loose from their organization to heap vile vituperation upon the national Executive of their choice.

President Grant is as deeply rooted in the affections of the people as ever he was, and the true Republicans of this city and vicinity, at least, will not allow his character to be assailed and traduced by any sheet without entering their solemn protest. The envenomed malice which the Commercial is spewing out against him will only serve to promote his interests.

THE NEW PARTY.

The new party held another meeting yesterday afternoon, a full report of the proceedings of which will be found in our local columns. Their mouth-piece will no doubt tell its readers this morning that, "for numbers and strength the meeting was all that could be desired," as it announced the day after the first meeting was held, although there were only about two dozen present, all of whom acknowledged their weakness.

According to actual count made by our reporter yesterday, there were not present at any time more than twenty-nine persons. These, although respectable in their different stations, are certainly not men of strength, as that term is understood in this connection. Is it not then an evidence of the weakness of the new organization that it has never been able to muster more than twenty-nine persons at any meeting, and among them not one of those "influential men" of whom the restless leaders have made their boast as signers to the call? We say emphatically that not one of the gentlemen whom the bolters themselves have designated as influential has, to our knowledge, attended any meeting yet. Why not, if the movement has been hailed with such enthusiasm as the organ of the bolters constantly proclaims? These gentlemen gave their names merely as an indication that they were in favor of correcting any abuses that may have crept into the party, without the slightest intention of ever leaving it, or entering into a new organization. They prove this by absenting themselves from every meeting. They will not meet with them now, nor will they vote with them in October, if they should be so foolish as to nominate a ticket.

Another evidence of their weakness is, that they received responses from different localities to their private call, to the effect that those upon whom they relied will have nothing to do with the matter. This announcement was made in the meeting yesterday. It is passing strange that such intelligence should have been received from districts where many signatures were obtained to the original call! This is positive proof that if the movement ever had any vitality, it is rapidly falling into decay, and will soon die out. This has been the current report on the streets for several days. Even one of the officers said to a member of the city press yesterday that he thought he had discovered a snake in the movement already, and as soon as he was convinced, he would abandon them at once. And we know that there is not a more honest man in these cities than that self-same officer. We only wonder that he has allowed himself to be deceived so long.

The bolters have been clamorous for a change in the manner of making nominations, but it will be seen from the report of the proceedings that they are unable even among themselves to define what they want. They are suspicious of one another. One said he could not trust the city, another that he could not trust the country. Where then will they find men whom they can trust, when they cannot trust each other? This division in their council is an evidence of weakness. A divided house cannot stand.

The strangest thing of all is that the Crawford County System was denounced by the meeting in unmeasured terms. Out of all the plans presented not one was adopted.

Honestly, we believe the new party has been nipped in the bud; the day of its infantile burial draweth nigh.

CONSTITUTION OF ILLINOIS.

A State Convention in Illinois has framed a new Constitution for that Commonwealth, which will be submitted to a vote of the people to-day. Among its provisions are the following:

No person convicted of bribery, perjury or other infamous crime shall be eligible to any office of profit or trust in the State. Members of the Legislature are required to swear that they have not paid any bribe to secure their election, and that they will not receive any gift or bribe for any vote or influence they may give or withhold for any official act which they may perform.

Legislative and Senatorial Districts are to be apportioned according to the number of inhabitants, and all counties having three-fifths of a ratio will be entitled to at least one representative.

No appropriations shall be made in any [illegible]ate law, and appropriation bills shall [illegible] no other provision. No money propria[illegible] [illegible]wn from the State Treasury be diverted [illegible] of law, and when ap[illegible]

The Legislat[illegible] [illegible]cific object shall not [illegible] tinguish the indebt[illegible] release or ex[illegible] ligation of any corporat[illegible] [illegible] or ob[illegible] the State.

The Legislature shall not [illegible] in[illegible] thorize additional compensation, allowance to any public officer, agent, contractor after service has been rendered or a contract made.

The State shall not loan its credit, nor in any manner become responsible for the debts or liabilities of corporations or individuals.

No law shall be passed extending the term of any public officer after his election or appointment.

Two-thirds of all the members elected are required to pass a law over the veto of the Governor. Under the present Constitution a majority only is required.

The Supreme Court shall consist of seven judges instead of three, as at present.

The Legislature shall have no power to discharge persons or property from a proportionate share of taxes, nor commute such taxes in any form.

County authorities shall never assess taxes, the aggregate of which shall exceed seventy-five cents per $100 valuation, unless authorized to do so by a vote of the people of the county.

Railroad companies are required to keep an office for the transfer of stock, and make such report to the Legislature as it may require. They shall not consolidate with competing lines. A majority of the directors must reside in the State. The Legislature will fix maximum rates of charges for all railroads within the State. A section forbidding municipal subscriptions to railroads will be submitted separately.

The Bill of Rights provides that no person shall be denied any civil or political rights on account of his religious opinions. Grand juries may be abolished by law. No irrevocable grant or special privileges shall ever be made by the Legislature.

Most, if not all of these provisions are new. It will be seen that they throw powerful restraints around the Legislature and county authorities. The newly framed Constitution meets with much popular favor. It will prevent the useless squandering of the people's money, and special legislation upon matters which can be adequately provided for in general laws. It proposes a radical and complete reform, and the indications are that it will be adopted by a large majority.

THE DANGER.

The Republican press throughout the State, at least such as have been recognized as in full sympathy with the party and its principles, very decidedly condemn the movement started here by a few parlor politicians and drawing room statesmen to divide the ranks and break down the regular organization. It is not, perhaps, through any immediate concern for our political interests out this way that outside journals sincerely deprecate the movement, but because they are fully aware of the programme of the aggressive Democratic leaders to encourage secession in our ranks and to urge union in their own, hoping to march into power through the Republican disorganization. The Harrisburg Telegraph puts the case plainly as follows:

"There never was a time when entire harmony in the Republicans ranks was of more importance than it is now. Those who imagine that all difficulties were removed by the crushing of the rebellion are sadly mistaken. It is the fixed intention of the discomfited leaders of the rebellion, acting in close concert with the sympathizing Democracy of the North, to restore again, at the earliest possible moment, the old order of things—to undo all that has been done to advance civilization and extend liberty, and to bring the country back in all respects, to the condition it was in before the first gun was fired upon Fort Sumter. We wish those who are, perhaps unwittingly, fomenting discord in the ranks in some sections of the State, by unnecessary and unwise movements would ponder with a little more care the evident intentions of the enemies of progress South and North, as occasionally disclosed by leading presses and orators of the Democracy. At present we invite attention to an extract from a recent speech of Wade Hampton, of South Carolina:

"Let us, then, my friends and comrades cling with unrelenting grasp and unshaken confidence to the faith that is in us. Let not the angry threats of oppression or the syren voice of temptation drive or allure us to forsake it. Above all, be not misled by that unmeaning jargon which tells you that your cause was submitted to the arbitrament of arms, and that the sword has decided that cause against us."

The Telegraph adds:

"As long as there exists even a remote chance to revolutionize the revolution in public sentiment and carry the country back again to the accursed era of slavery, the South will not rest content with the new order of things, encouraged as they are by the yet powerful Democracy of the North; and nothing can prevent the success of this unholy alliance but a united and well organized Republican party. Let those who are playing with firebrands in close vicinity to combustible and explosive material, take heed in time."

GROSS FABRICATION.

We admire the magnanimity of soul and kindness of heart in a political opponent which would prompt the utterance of the following words, which we copy from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

A story has recently been started in a Lacrosse paper concerning the death of an uncle of Horace Greeley's in the Wisconsin poor-house. All the details are supplied to give it the semblance of truth, and it is even alleged that letters from Mr. Greeley were found in the pockets of deceased. Now, notwithstanding we know nothing whatever about the matter, we venture to pronounce the thing a mean fabrication, and we are sorry to see Democratic journals copying it for the purpose of political capital, because of Mr Greeley's prominence in the Republican party. Mr. Greeley is no friend of ours, and we are not among his admirers, certainly. But he is a man whose private virtues atone for many of his political vices; and he has saved too many of other men's uncles from the poor-house to allow us to believe that he would let his own uncle die there. The inventor of this wretched canard was both base and brainless. If he can't get up something more plausible, he had better quit journalism and try shoemaking.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The late Ohio Congregational Conference at Oberlin, was remarkable in some respects. Henry Ward Beecher's theology and especially his paper, the Christian Universe, were the cause of a lively time, because of his views favoring a union with those who deny the Divinity of Christ and the atonement. The venerable Professor Finney said he knew the Beechers well. In his childhood Henry Ward's father spent his life in controversy, and it didn't amount to much, and the boys all got sick of it, and the girls too, and they went to opposite extremes. The next important question was the admission of women as delegates—the church at Toledo having sent them. Finally the women were rejected by a vote of eighty-eight to fifty-five. The Rhode Island Congregational Conference also rejected a woman as delegate.

According to the Independent, the Rev. J. W. Clokey, United Presbyterian minister at Steubenville, Ohio, has been refused a certificate of ministerial standing, because Dr. Ekin of the Old School Presbyterian Church, by vote of his session, assisted and partook of the Lord's Supper, at his communion table. Further, on leaving his presbytery to join another, action was taken expressing a want of confidence in him as reliable on Church polity in respect to psalmody.

Indications are apparent that the feud between the regular Baptists in Ohio, and the Disciples (Campbellites) is likely to pass away, and that the points at issue, especially of the regenerating grace of baptism, will not be a barrier to prevent friendly relations.

The Quaker Monthly Meeting of Philadelphia have sanctioned the report of a committee opposing the exhibition of costly presents at weddings, as fostering a spirit of vanity at variance with Christian sympathy and the rules of that body.

Dr. Krotel, a leading Lutheran clergy[illegible] estimates that if the Lutheran [illegible] were supplied with ministers to Church she would have more com[illegible] hundred tho[illegible] the re-united Presbyterian

The Episcopal church, Frankfort, Pa., has a Sunday School of nearly fifteen hundred, teachers, sewing and night schools, mother's meetings, etc.

Notwithstanding the United Presbyterian Church is prospering in many respects, according to the Narrative of Religion at the last General Assembly, there has been an actual decrease in the ministerial force of ten during the past year. Fifteen ministers died and twelve joined other denominations. This fact excited anxiety at the General Assembly.

Many laymen living in the Southern Presbyterian Church are not satisfied with the belligerent stand of their Church towards the Northern Presbyterians. A distinguished layman thinks their course a serious mistake.

The Presbyterian, in noticing the question of Dickens' religion, without proposing to throw any light on it, because it knew nothing of his daily life, thinks that it is a matter of profound interest the fact that the question has been on so many lips, and excited so much discussion.

Detroit, Michigan, singular to state, with a population of from eighty to one hundred thousand, has until recently had but one Baptist church.

The receipts of the Baptist Missionary Union last year were a trifle over two hundred thousand dollars, while the expenses were nineteen to twenty thousand more. The Committee want two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the current year.

Rev. Frank De Hass, formerly of this city, now pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been honored with the degree of D. D., by Albion College, Michigan.

The elegant new Wesleyan Association building, Boston, has just been completed, at a cost of nearly three hundred thousand dollars. It is located in Bromfeld street, with a front of seventy-two feet, and a depth of one hundred and twelve. The Book Depository, Zion's Herald, and other Methodist interests to occupy the building, and the three large stores on the street.

A correspondent of the Presbyterian, which has carefully read the reports of the late Presbyterian General Assembly, presents the following summary, which will interest many. Of the 600 members of the Assembly only 149, are reported as having spoken at all, leaving 451 silent members, except that a few are reported, without name, as "A member said" &c. The 146 speaking were as follows: Dr. Musgrave 63 times, Dr. Beatty 50, Dr. Crosby 49, Dr. W. Adams 36, Dr. Hatfield 35, Dr. Spear 29, Ex-Governor Pollock 28, W. E. Dodge 21, Dr. Breed 19, Mr. Kingsley 18, Dr. Fowler 16, Judge Strong 13, Dr. Paxton and Mr. Junkin each 12, 3 members spoke each 11, 2 members spoke each 10, 2 members spoke each 9, 2 members spoke each 8, 3 members spoke each 7, 3 members each spoke 7, 5 members spoke each 6, 10 members spoke each 5, 5 members spoke each 4, 14 members spoke each 3, 22 members spoke each 2, 65 members spoke each 1.

At the last Board meeting of the American Bible Society at New York the entire number of books granted for the month were seven thousand three hundred and ninety four, besides other gifts.

The Presbyterian ministers of Philadelphia, are about to organize a Presbyterial League, embracing all the churches of the city with a view to adopting means to reach more effectually the masses with the Gospel.

The Senate of France has recognized the equal rights of Protestants and Catholics in the army, by requesting the appointment of a Protestant chaplain, for the soldiers at Perpegan.

In 1852 the Baptists of Newark, New Jersey, had but two churches, and five hundred members. Through the activity of missionary operations, in connection with the usual means, they now have eight churches and over twenty six hundred members, having increased five-fold, while the city has only doubled in population.

The ratio of representation in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church is to be one minister and one elder for every forty ministers, instead of one of each class from every Presbytery containing twenty ministers or less according to the former rule.

FULTON'S FIRST STEAMBOAT.

A Romantic Story of How He Won His Bride--The Old Boat Still Floating.

A correspondent of the Geneva Courier relates the following story of the Kate Morgan, the little steamer which for more than a generation has plied on Cayuga Lake, her owners obeying the behest of the first proprietor, to "run her till she busts."

Before the Chancellor Livingstone stemmed the current of the Hudson, yet after the little Clermont had stirred the quiet waters of the Collect Pond, the whistle of the Kate Morgan awoke the echoes in Taughanic Glenn, and her paddle-wheel dashed the spray upon Cayuga bridge. There is a bit of romance attaching to her name and building.

Old General Morgan, of Revolutionary fame had a noble estate on the eastern bank of the lake, not far from where the present Wells College now stands. Between his only daughter, a lovely girl of eighteen, and young Fulton had long existed a tender attachment, which, however, the poverty and obscurity of Robert led the General to severely frown upon. Fulton went to New York. He labored long years in perfecting his invention; his day of triumph came, and then he wrote to the stern father relating his success and asking for the daughter's hand.

"Nay," wrote back the incredulous old soldier, "I'll believe what I see with my own eyes. Come you back, scapegrace, to the lake; build and sail a steamboat past my own door, and then, and not till then, shall you have my daughter Kate."

Need I say that Fulton came joyfully back, that a steamer was built as rapidly as circumstances would permit, that she was launched, and in due time did sail triumphantly past the General's door! But let me add that, according to an express stipulation made by the sly Robert in case he succeeded—when the Kate Morgan sheered in towards the General's dock a small boat was seen pushing out containing the original Kate, her grim father, and a gentleman in clerical vestments. They were soon on board, and there, amid the waving of flags, the ringing of bells, and the blowing of whistles, the proud inventor and his prouder bride were made one. A glorious sweep up and down the lake completed the first bridal trip by steam ever known in this country.

Before we leave this historical boat let us go below a moment. Here are the old fashioned engines, inscribed "Treman, Cartwright & Co." They were the first engine builders in the United States, and furnished both Fulton's and Fitch's boats. Cartwright was the father of the well known Peter Cartwright, the Western backwoods preacher.

Glance now at the cabin. Its upholstering was furnished by A. T. Stewart, at that time an exterprising young tradesman, keeping a little seven by nine shop in Chambers street. Though the lustre of the goods has long since passed away, its durability remains to attest to the honesty and good judgment of the young dealer, and by which he has risen to be the foremost merchant of our country.

THE Saratogian gets off the following: It is one of the most amusing sights in the world to watch a young and inexperienced fly attempt to perigrinate slantindicularly across the head of one of our short haired young men. We mean one of those heads that has been scissored down, rasped, filed and finished off with sand paper and emery, so that the minutest phrenological [illegible]ump" stands out in as bold relief as a [illegible] potatoes. He (the fly) travels so [illegible] mixes his feet so much like [illegible] and the [illegible]chelor learning to skate. No [illegible] on it essay[illegible] a sermon with one of [illegible] from the north[illegible] line between you [illegible] ner to see a friend [illegible] unfortunate fly [illegible] to get across

A CONTEMPORARY, [illegible] [illegible]theast cor[illegible] weather, asks that "the lea[illegible] men who have been seeing spots [illegible] face of the sun for some time past predicting that the force of his rays would be materially diminished thereby, will please step to the front and explain."

THE THIRD PARTY.

MESSRS EDITORS: The Third party pretends to be in favor of the Crawford county system, which by the way Crawford county has abolished. How does it come that they did not adopt that system in making their nominations, instead of the delegate system which they pretend to regard as so vicious? I wonder if the leaders, Carnahan and Brigham did not anticipate a rather slender show of strength. Their failure to adopt this system, taken in connection with the overtures of their leaders to the Regular Republican party for reconciliation, would seem to indicate that their boasted confidence in their strength is "put on."

A REGULAR REPUBLICAN.

STOCKTON, California, has two very curious insane men. One has but one leg, yet threatens to walk to New York for the purpose of inducing all Irish emigrants to go with him to Mexico; and the other imagines himself Gen. O'Neill, and is bored that the newspapers should consider him so popular a topic.

THE LIVING MACHINE.

Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works become disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to the chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried farther, for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded. The eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ, whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoea have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia, the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 1, 1870.

The Iron market is devoid of anything specially new or important. There is a fair business in metal for the season, but prices are very low and it said, and we have no doubt it is true, that the furnace men are making no money; already some of them have been stopped and unless there is an improvement in prices soon, of which there is not much prospect now, it is highly probable, that the great majority of the furnaces will go out of blast within the next few weeks. And it is probable that the majority of the mills will suspend operations between now and the 1st August, as is usually the case, to take stock and make repairs. Upon the whole, however, business is about as good as it usually is at this season of the year, though nothing to brag of.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 1, 1870.

The oil market was very quiet to-day, the excitement which prevailed yesterday in consequence of an apprehended corner having subsided, and there is now, seemingly nothing to disturb the monotony which has prevailed in the oil business for several months. There is some little inquiry for both crude and refined, and mainly for early months, but the figures offered are not big enough to please our refiners, and consequently, we have but few sales to report.

CRUDE.

Sale of 1,000 bbls Parker, seller 20 days, at 11¼; and 1,000 bbls (40 to 46 gravity) 11⅛. This last sale, it is but proper to remark, was made under pecular circumstances, and, therefore, 11⅛ cannot fairly be regarded as the market price for spot oil—11¼ would probably be nearer the market.

REFINED.

July is quoted at 27 for first, and 27¼ for last half—sale 500 bbls, first half, at 27. August and September, 27¾. There were sales of some 5,000 bbls spot oil in Philadelphia last night at 28c.

RECEIPTS CRUDE OIL.

Bly & Co 80, on account S Adams; Excelsior Oil Co 172, on account Thos Chess; Brilliant Oil Works 326, on account Lockhart, F. & Co; A. B. Mills 80, on account W. T. Bartle.

Total .... 2,317 bbls.

OIL SHIPPED EAST FROM DUQUESNE DEPOT.

Hutchinson Oil Refining Co. 250 bbls refined to Warden, Frew & Co., Philadelphia.

WOOL ITEMS.

The wool market in Harrison county continues extreemly dull. Probably about 75,000 pounds have been sold, and 825,000 pounds remain unsold. Buyers are still offering 40c. We have heard of a few clips selling at 41½@42c.—Cadiz (O.) Rephblican.

The local trade in wool is quiet, with light receipts. Prices are unchanged at 25@30c for unwashed, and 32@40c for fleece-washed wool, per pound. Woolens are dull, with the exception of yarns, in which there is some activity.—Springfield (O.) Republic.

Col. Asa Manchester, of Independence township, one of the extensive wool growers of this county, sold his clip of wool recently to Samdel George, Esq., of Wellsburg, West Va., at 45 cents per pound. The Steubenville Herald says that Wm. Leggitt and a Mr. Dinsmore, of this county, have likewise disposed of their clips at 50 cents per pound, on a credit of twelve months without interest.—Washington (Pa.) Reporter.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Beeves count 850 to-day, making 6,400 for the week. A fair demand for good cattle at full rates, but most of the stock was too poor to sell well; prices unchanged at 8@26½c; 82 mean 4 cwt Texans sold at $32.50; 50 good 6½ cwt Illinois steers at 15@16½c, with a car of 6 cwt Ohio at 14c, 57 lbs per cwt. Sheep: 2,350 to-day, making 16,900 for the week. Trade very slow and many are unsold. Fat sheep unchanged, with thin at 4@4½c. Lambs much lower; western 8@11c, and State and extra Jersey 10@13c. A car of 80 lbs Ohio sheep sold at 6½c; some Indiana 90 lbs poor at 4½c; a few 103 lbs State at 11c. Hogs have fallen to 10½@11c for dressed, with only 8 cars to-day and 13,500 for the week. The high price of ice makes a cheapness for hogs.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 1, 1870.

For several years past Chicago has been regarded as the leading grain market in this country, with the exception only of New York; and now she is endeavoring to control New York instead of being subject to that place, as heretofore, in other words, she is making an effort to take the lead, and is very desirous of leaving New York behind. Chicago led the recent upward and also downward movement in grain, and the eyes of operators in every commercial city were turned to that place, and every market followed the Chicago market up or down. The New York World acknowledges the supremacy and influence of Chicago in this particular case when it says:

"The export of grain has been checked by the rapidity with which speculators here and in the West have run up prices beyond the limits which Europe can afford to buy in competion with the other grain markets of the world. The Chicago bankers have determined so far as they are concerned, to check this speculative evil of forestalling the market, by refusing to discount grain paper maturing beyond July 1. If the speculators can obtain facilities to carry the grain they hold at present prices, then the result will be that Europe will buy in other markets, and the United State will lose the sale of a large amount of grain. The country will be injured thereby. These grain speculators must bear in mind that Europe always exaggerates the calculations of expected short crops in order to attract speculative shipments, so as to have large stocks of grain in its ports. The result generally is that the highest prices are realized before the harvest is half in; and afterwards come a breakdown, which ruins speculators. It is estimated that this action of the Chicago bankers will enforce sales of about 7,000,000 bushels. In the end the speculators will realize more than if they were enabled to carry out their own views. In other words this action of the Chicago banks will add to the wealth of the country in increasing the exports of grain, and also by saving speculators from heavy losses and perhaps ruin."

APPLES—Are coming in more freely, though prices are still maintained, $4@5½ per bbl.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged; Common Soda, 4c; Refined, 4½c; Pearls, 9⅛c; Pots, 7¾c.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged—the offerings are not very large, though fully equal to the demand, which continues light. Sales of good to prime fresh at 15@18c.

CHICKENS—In better supply and lower; we now quote at 65@70cts per pair by the coop.

CORNMEAL—95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3¼ per bbl.

CHEESE—Is in good supply and dull, as is always the case during hot weather, though there is no quotable change in prices, 10@14c.

EGGS—There is a moderate demand, with sales of fresh at 19@20c.

CARBON OIL—The demand, in a jobbing way, continues light, and prices are unchanged, 23@23½.

DRIED FRUIT—There is some little inquiry and the market is almost bare of the better qualities. Apples 4½@5½. Peaches 5½@6½ for quarters, and 7@8 for halves.

FEATHERS—Quiet and unchanged, at 80@85 cts. to the trade.

FLOUR—Market quiet, and if anything a little weak, and the demand is not so brisk, but prices are unchanged. We continue to quote good western flour, in store, at $6½. Fancy brands $7@8. Rye Flour $5.

GRAIN—Wheat is weak and drooping though there is a fair demand at a decline of 3 to 5 cts. per bushel; we understand that none of the mills will pay over $1,20 for prime red, and some dealers are selling at the decline in preference to putting it into store. Oats dull and rather weak, which is owing mainly to the fact that there are no eastern orders, and the demand being restricted almost wholly to the local trade. We now quote at 48@49 in first hands; 51@51½ on wharf and track, and 52@53 in store. Corn is also dull and weak; prime shelled is offered freely at 90, and there are but few buyers above 85@88. Rye is dull though still quoted at 85@90—distillers generally are not buying.

GROCERIES—Market continues dull, which is nearly always the case at this season of the year; the couny trade has fallen of very perceptibly within the past two weeks, and take the country trade away from the grocery trade, and there is not much left. In regard to prices there have been no important changes for several days.

HAY—The receipts are falling off, but with no improvement in the demand, the market is very dull, while prices are unchanged; sales from country wagons at $9@16, as to quality and condition.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3½ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1.75.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1 is quoted at $1.23@1.25 and No. 2 at 80.

PROVISIONS—Market steady but unchanged.

PROVISIONS—There is a good demand for Sugar Cured Hams, otherwise the market is quiet and rather dull—Plain Shoulders, 13½@14 cts Sugar Cured do, 16@16½; Ribbed Sides, 16½@16¾; Short Rib Sides, 17@17½; Clear, do, 17⅜@17¾; Sugar Cured Hams, 22½@23; Second pickel Hams, 21@21½. Breakfast Bacon, 19@19½. Mess Pork, $30½@31. Lard, 17 in tcs, and 18@18½ in kegs and buckets.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

POTATOES—Sales of prime old Peach Blows at 60 to 65 cts per bushel. Sales of new crop at $4 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in active demand, and crushers are taking all that offers at $ .25. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has risen considerably since the date of our last report and last evening the Monongahela marks indicated 40 inches. We had several very heavy showers of rain yesterday, and the prospects at this writing are favorable for more.

There were no arrivals, and the Emma Logan for Parkersburg was the only departure.

The Juniata is laid up at Cincinnati undergoing repairs. Whenever there is sufficient water she will again enter the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet trade. Capt. Collins has not yet returnen from Louisville, where he went to deliver the Glasgow to her new owners.

Capt. Dan Moore, of the Arlington is here on a visit to his family. The Arlington is laid up below the falls.

Capt. A. C. McConnell, clerk on the St Louis and Arkansas river steamer, Arkansas, is here after an absence of nine months. His numerous friends will be gratified to learn that he is in excellent health, and will remain here several weeks.

The new stemer Exchange, Capt. A. C. McCallum, is filling up rapidly, and is announced for St. Louis forthwith. She was built under the personal superintendence of Capt. J. L. Rhodes, who is no novice at the business, and is in all respects an No. 1 boat. Mr. John Dales, for several years connected with the Monongahela river packets, will have charge of the river.

—The Colossal has arrived again at New Orleans. Captain Bob Riley writes: Now that all the fast boats are making quick trips, and in order that my friends may know that I am not left out in the cold, but still in the ring, though slightly disfigured, I here give the time made by the Little Rock and Fort Smith railroad packet Colossal, which speaks for itself. Her time from Little Rock to the foot of Canal street, New Orleans, a distance of 900 miles, more or less as the case may be, was forty-eight hours and one minute.

—Island No. 10, rendered historial during the late war by the siege it sustained is rapidly passing away. It is being cut down very fast, and the indications are that when the next high water shall have passed on to the gulf, Island No. 10 will be no more.

—The R. E. Lee stripped herself at Mound City on her way down, and will have no superfluous freight when she leaves New Orleans next Thursday. Odds are being offered at Evansville on the Lee making better time than the Natchez.

—Bossier is the name of Hiram Hazlett's new boat for upper Red river, building at the South St Louis Marine Ways. She will draw light only twelve inches, and be completed in six weeks from this date.

—The Tennessee River between Knoxville and Stevenson still maintains a high boating stage, old steamboatmen say the high water in that river is unparalled in the annals of the past.

—The Sallie, as we learn by a telegram to Capt. Stockdale, her owner, arrived at Sioux City on Tuesday, and expected to arrive at St. Louis to-morrow.

—The Glendale, Wananita and bell boat Aid were at Louisville on Wednesday, and the Kate Putnam, was at Cairo the same day.

—Capt. Larry Harmstead, of Memphis, wants to bet $30,000 that the Lee cannot beat the Natchez. He says he is in dead earnest.

—The Governor Allen has been laid up to repair and repaint to take the place of the Frank Pargoud in the Vicksburg trade.

—Capt. H. H. Drown, late of the Spencer House, Cincinnati, will go to steamboating again in the fall.

—The R. C. Gray will have a new cabin and texas put on her before leaving for the Arkansas again.

—The Major Anderson will be up at Cincinnati on her return from Wheeling this trip.

—The Wananita will probably load at Cincinnati for New Orleans after the Lorena.

—The Sioux City has entered the trade between Omaha and St. Joe.

—The Nick Wall is loading at St. Louis for Red River.

—The Eau Clare is for sale at Evansville.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

Persons leaving the city for the summer, and wishing to have the GAZETTE sent to them, will please send their addresses to the office. Price by mail, 75 cents per month.

Crowded Out.—On Monday we will present a pretty full account of the commencement exercises of St. Xavier's College, which is crowded out by press of other matters this morning.

Base Ball.—The Atlantics of Pittsburgh and Mutuals of East Liberty will play a match game of base ball at the Union Park this afternoon at 3 o'clock, P. M. A close and interesting game may be expected.

For Sale.—Several sets of second-hand window sash with good lights in, and doors, good as new, will be sold very low. Apply today at GAZETTE Counting room, corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street.

Alarm of Fire.—About seven o'clock last evening there was an alarm of fire from box 35, which was occasioned by a burning chimney on Wylie street, a few doors above Tunnel. The fire department responded promptly, but did not go into service.

Police Pay Roll.—The Police Pay Roll for the month of June was completed and approved by the Police Committee. The roll foots up $8,333 40, a pretty considerable sum to pay to men for protection, when these men are not clothed with the requisite power to afford the protection.

Borrowing.—Dominee Ruh, a few days ago, borrowed twenty-one dollars from George Brohler, representing the firm by whom he was employed, owed him thirty dollars. He gave an order for the amount on the firm, who refused to honor it, the drawer having no money with them. Warrant issued.

Ear to Ear.—John Mehen was charged before Alderman Moreland, yesterday, by Mrs. Ann Charlesworth with threatening to sever her head from her body, or at least, cut her throat from ear to ear. The sanguinary threat will not be carried into execution if the official can prevent it. He has issued a warrant.

A Grand Pic-nic for St. Bridget church will come off on July 4th, at Baum's grove, Roupe station. The Pennsylvania Central Railroad cars afford all accommodations to such as desire to spend a pleasant day, and do a good work. Additional cars on the Minersville passenger Railway will run every ¼ of an hour.

Nancy Edwards alleges that William Hagan came into her house the other night and attempted to break into her room. When unsuccessful she further states he applied all sorts of vile and obscene epithets to her, and acted otherwise in an outrageous manner. For this disorderly conduct Deputy Mayor Nichols has issued a a warrant for his arrest.

For a Cigar which can be smoked with ease and comfort and is a real luxury, go to Megraw's, No. 45 Ninth street. If you don't smoke cigars, get a meerschaum and some of that tobacco, fine cut and superb smoking, which Megraw always keeps on hand. Megraw's, No. 45 Ninth street, is just the place for the accommodation of smokers.

Larceny.—Henry Hirchenroather made information before the Mayor charging John Ryan, Thomas Powers, James Powers and Pat. Gannon with larceny. The prosecutor occupies a butcher stand in the Diamond market, and he alleges that the accused broke open his money drawer and abstracted $20. They were arrested and locked up for a hearing.

Kier & Co., proprietors of the Keystone Pottery, have on hand at their warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, a new and beautiful stock of tea sets, latest patterns and finish. A table that wouldn't look well with them would'nt present a neat appearance with any manufacture of queensware. The Keystone is not excelled by any queensware in the market.

John Kegan rented a house on Forty-eighth street some time ago from George Rau, promising to pay the rent as soon as he received money due him from the Diamond Steel Works, which Rau says was a fiction of the imagination—Kegan having no money due him from that source. Deputy Mayor Nichols instructed officer Herr to arrest Kegan on sight, for false pretence.

Forcible Entry.—Yesterday John O'Brien made information before Alderman Taylor charging Thomas McGiermott and James Donovan with entering his house, removing his goods and compelling his wife to leave the premises, they claiming to act thus by authority of a landlord's warrant. They will be arrested for forcible entry as soon as the officer can interview them.

Wm. Crossthwait yesterday stated to Deputy Mayor Nichols that while sitting on his steps in the Seventeenth ward, he was approached by Hugh Garvey who jerked his pipe out of his mouth, and when asked to return it declined, at the same time following up the assault by striking him (Crossthwait) in the mouth. As this was a clear case of assault and battery the official drew up the necessary legal papers authorizing the arrest of Hugh.

"A Little Previous."—Mary A. Prior, to use an expression attributed to "the city official" was a "little previous" in forming a matrimonial relation a few days since. Prior to this alliance referred to she was joined in wedlock to John Prior, who still lives and not having obtained a divorce from the Prior bonds, prior to entering into the others Mary has got herself into difficulty. John Prior, her husband, made information before Alderman Floyd yesterday, charging her with bigamy. She was arrested and after a hearing was committed to jail for trial.

The "Minnehaha" Excursion.

The excursion of the Minnehaha Club on the Fourth in the steamer Camelia, will be one of the most thoroughly select and enjoyable methods of spending the day. The getters up of the affair know all about such matters, and have made every exertion to ensure its perfect success. The boat will leave the foot of Market street at nine o'clock, and will have on board one of the best bands in the city. Those who desire to have a delightful excursion on the Fourth should remember the "Minnehaha" Club's trip.

American Bank.

The Directors of the American Bank declared a semi-annual dividend of six per cent out of their profits. It is only about a year since this institution went into operation, and yet, so large are its deposits that at the end of each six months it was enabled to declare a dividend of six per cent. This is the first bank in this city, we believe, that has declared a six per cent dividend from the start. Its success speaks well for the able management of its excellent President, John Floyd, Esq., and shows that the commercial and business men of the city repose implicit confidence in him, and the institution over which he presides.

Washington and Beaver Counties.

Messrs. J. R. Harrah, H. C. Patterson and T. M. Taylor, Legislative Conferees of Beaver county, and H. B. McLean, A. W. Pollock and James P. Hart, of Washington county, met at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, July 1, 1870, and organized by selecting J. R. Harrah, Esq., as chairman, and James P. Hart, Esq., as Secretary, whereupon they proceeded to ratify the nominations made in their respective counties, to wit: Demas W. Leatherman, Esq., and William A. Micky, Esq., of Washington county, and Dr. William D. Shurlock, of Beaver county, as the Legislative candidates for Washington and Beaver counties.

Floral Festival.

The Daughters of Samaria, Van Brakle Lodge, No. 19, have secured Lafayettee Hall for one night only, the Fourth of July, and propose to spread their tables with every delicacy of the season. No pains or expense will be spared to make the hall attractive and the entertainment in every respect a joyous and pleasant one. Mrs. Nancy S. Smith, the Chairman, and Mrs. Roadley, Secretary, and Mesdames Williams, Ellis and Bartley, and Misses White and Stewart are applying all their energy and ingenuity, assisted by other members of the Lodge, to have everything as it should be, and we trust their efforts will be rewarded by a large and liberal Fourth of July outpouring.

The "Leafy Grove."

There will be no more delightful way of spending the Fourth than in the "leafy grove" in company with the Young Men's Sodality, who propose an excursion to McFarland's on that occasion. They have been arranging for the excursion for some time and anticipate one of the best ever held under their supervision. Those who have attended others will understand what this means. We can safely assure all who desire to attend, of a most agreeable and pleasant time. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Public Catholic Library—an additional incentive for attending. Participants can thus aid a noble institution and enjoy a day of rare pleasure.

Boarding House Robbery.

A gentleman boarding in a house on Spring alley, near Seventeenth street, Tenth ward, was robbed on Thursday night of $315 in cash and two silver watches. The money and watches were in his trunk on Thursday evening. At an early hour yesterday a man named Pfeil, also a boarder in the house, left, stating that he was going to work, and soon after his departure the robbery was discovered. He was not suspected, however, until in the afternoon. He did not come to dinner at the usual hour, and a visit to the shop at which he had been employed developed the fact that he had not been there during the day. Information was made before the Mayor charging Pfiel with the larceny, and the police are after him.

Fire Marshal Butler's Notice Concerning Fire Works.

During my rounds in the discharge of my official duties as Fire Marshal, I have frequently observed cases in which horses have been frightened and life and property endangered by fire, by the discharge of fire crackers, rockets, &c. I therefore deem it my duty to call the attention of the proper authorities of the county to the laws prohibiting the same, and would most respectfully ask that they will exercise the power vested in them in reference thereto. I will lend all assistance at my command to enforce the laws.

JOS. A. BUTLER,
Fire Marshal.

THE THIRD PARTY.

Another Council Meeting Yesterday—Reports And Discussions—What They Said and Did.

A meeting of the "Third Party" was held yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at their headquarters No. 129 Smithfield street. There were in attendance twenty-nine persons. The meeting was organized by the election of Alexander Miller, Esq., as President, and J. R. Reed, Esq., as Secretary.

The Finance Committee reported progress, and was continued. Mr. Robert Finney was elected Treasurer.

Reports of Committees were then called for.

THAT SECRET CIRCULAR.

Mr. Alex. Miller, from the Committee on Organization, called attention to the fact of the publication in the GAZETTE of the "Circular." He deprecated the publicity given to everything connected with the proceedings. He believed in the methods employed to advance the cause, but didn't think it proper to let the opposition know what they were doing. They should be kept from knowing it, if possible, and the result only seen.

Mr. Kirk said it would leak out. The proceedings couldn't be kept so quiet.

Mr. Caruthers—Yes, the GAZETTE will publish the news. They are always wide awake.

The discussion now ended on this point.

NEW SYSTEM OF NOMINATING.

The committee appointed to prepare a new system for nominating were called upon for a report.

Mr. Kirk presented a paper containing a plan, which was briefly:

1st—Providing for all voting at primary meetings to be by ballot.

2nd—The people to vote for candidates direct, and at the same time for delegates to a Convention; the vote of the people to be instructions to the delegates, who would be required to vote in Convention for the candidates receiving a plurality of votes at the primary meetings.

3d—Each election district with two hundred votes to be entitled to one delegate and one vote in Convention; over two hundred and less than five hundred two delegates, and over five hundred three delegates—registration the year previous being the standard.

4th—Voting in Convention to be by open ballot on printed slips, the delegate signing his name to the ballot, and writing upon it the election district from which he is sent. The Secretary to read the ballot as the vote of the election district named, and a plurality of votes to elect the candidate. In case of a tie, necessitating a second ballot, the delegate to be allowed to vote according to his own preference.

Mr. Kirk, after reading the paper, said this was only his plan. The other members of the Committee would present theirs.

ANOTHER PLAN.

Mr. Carothers offered as his plan:

1st. The people to vote by ballot at primary meetings.

2d. The candidates to be voted for direct—two delegates to be sent from each election district at the same time, who should take the instructions of the people in choosing their candidates as a guide in Convention.

3d. The voting in Convention to be by ballot.

4th. A majority vote in Convention to elect the candidate.

STILL ANOTHER.

Mr. Finley, another member of the Committee, offered the following:

Whereas, Our Republican form of government does not require that any candidate at our popular elections have a majority of the votes polled, but on the contrary a plurality under any and all circumstances is sufficient to elect;

And whereas, The practice of requiring a majority of all the votes polled to be necessary to a nomination—which practice had its origin amongst Southern politicians of the once slave States, in order that a minority might use undue influences over majorities, and by that means bring conventional bodies to a dead lock unless the majority acceded to their wishes;

And whereas, It is also the prolific source of corruption and the grand loophole through which wiry and unscrupulous delegates escape and excuse themselves for having betrayed their constituents; Therefore

Resolved, That it be abandoned, and that in lieu thereof a plurality of votes be sufficient to elect to a nomination for any office for which a nomination is to be made in our County Conventions; also,

Resolved, That in lieu of the old delegate system, the people vote at the primary meetings directly for the several candidates, and that a true and impartial list of the several candidates voted for be made out, with the number of votes cast for each set opposite their names, and the said list be certified to by the officers authorized and who hold the elections, and that the same be sealed and directed to the President of the Convention to be held in ———; and furthermore,

Resolved, That during the voting the qualified voters also vote each for one person as a courier or delegate to the Convention, whose simple duty it shall be, when his ward or township be called, to respond "here," and hand his credentials to the President or Secretary of the Convention; and that the same shall entitle him to ONE VOTE, which shall be cast orally; and that when the votes are added up it shall be the duty of the chairman to announce the number of votes each candidate has received, and the candidate having the highest shall be declared the nominee; and in case of a tie vote, the Convention may order to be stricken from the list a certain number of those candidates having the fewest votes, and then proceed with a second ballot until the nominations be made.

Having read the above, Mr. Finley said: Our conventions are too large, and consequently unwieldy mobs, swaying, surging to and fro—if they were only half the present number they then could be seated and governed. Under our present system of delegates, minorities have no voice or representation whatever in conventions, whereas the above proposed plan will allow every man his due influence in convention.

THE PLANS—WHAT TO DO WITH THEM.

After the plans had thus been presented, the President asked what was to be done with them.

MUCH WORK, YET NO PROGRESS.

Mr. Carnahan said they could do nothing but receive them. They could adopt no one, as none of them came directly from the Committee as their report.

Mr. Miller thought the Committee should have agreed upon a plan themselves and brought it in. As it was, they had come to no conclusion.

THE "CRAWFORD" SYSTEM WON'T DO.

Mr. Miller said it was evident the Crawford County system would not do, as seemed to be contemplated in a measure in these plans. The country people would never submit to it. They contended, and justly, too, that the city, by the Crawford county system, made the nominations. The party must in their new plan get over that difficulty. It would never do to adopt it.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION.

He thought the matter should be referred back to the Committee to combine the advantages suggested in one plan, and report that to the Convention. The plan was wanted for next year, and if the party did not, through their executive committee, now adopt one, they might leave it to a committee to prepare during the year.

AFRAID OF THE COUNTRY PEOPLE.

Mr. Kirk thought that about the most important business before the coming Convention was the adoption of a plan for nominating. It could not be done outside the Convention, and they should have something to act upon in the matter when they meet. He thought the Executive Committee should get this business ready for them. The one point must also be carefully guarded—the country districts were afraid of being outvoted by the city. His plan had been prepared to obviate that difficulty. He did not believe a district with only fifty votes should have as many delegates as one with fifteen hundred. It was unfair. His plan would cut the representation down in some parts of the city and raise it in some of the country districts, so that the distribution would be made just and equal.

A motion was made to receive the reports. Carried.

THE COMMITTEE MUST DO THE FIXING.

Mr. Keeler thought they should be now discussed and then referred back to the Committee to rearrange, "fix up" and combine into one. If the three went into the Convention, and the matter had to be settled there, it would require more than one day. It should be fixed before the Convention met.

RARE EXPEDITION.

Mr. Finley wasn't ten minutes in preparing his plan, and he wanted it discussed as as he had not been used to such things.

DON'T WANT ANY CONVENTION.

Mr. Dickey couldn't see what was the use of voting for candidates direct and then having a Convention. This only confused matters. He favored voting direct.

THE DETESTED "CRAWFORD" SYSTEM.

Mr. Caruthers said in that case the city would outvote the county. The Crawford County System should not be adopted.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

Mr. Kennedy thought the reports should be printed and then brought into the Convention for action.

"MY" PLAN THE BEST.

Mr. Kirk said in many things the three papers agreed, but in one point they differed—in the number of delegates. By his plan the country districts would have as much power as the city.

THOSE PESKY CITY FELLOWS.

Mr. Caruthers said the country districts were already tenacious upon the point of equal representation. They didn't want to be outvoted by the sharp city fellows.

Mr. J. R. Reed thought all the sharp fellows were kept in the old party.

A CONCLUSION AT LAST.

A motion was now made and carried which referred the plans back to the committee for revision, the points of each to be presented in one combined report to the Convention.

"GRATIFYING PROGRESS."

Calls were then made for reports from the different districts of the progress in the cause.

The First ward had no representative present. A gentleman from the Second ward reported that he had given a number of "calls" to a "worker" in the First ward, and thought as there were a good many people in the district that delegates would be sent.

The representative from the Second ward reported that circulars had been distributed, but that nothing was known further. There had been some talk of interference by the members of the old clique, but they would try to prevent that.

The Third ward reported nothing done yet—because they didn't know what to do.

AN INTERRUPTION—GLORY ENOUGH FOR THE PRESENT.

At this stage Mr. Kirk interposed, and said it was not necessary to go over the election districts. The Committee on Organization had reported cheering progress, and that was sufficient. All that was necessary was for the people to meet and send delegates. It was important that this should be done, but the exact manner was immaterial, so the delegates were sent.

Further reports of "gratifying progress" were accordingly dispensed with.

A TREASURER WANTED.

A report was now received that Mr. Finney positively declined to serve as Treasurer. "He hadn't time," was the reason given. No action was taken.

INFORMATION WANTED.

A representative from the Eighth ward wanted information. Up there they don't know how to proceed. He inquired if it was only required for a man to sign the call and then hold out his hat for the others to deposit their ballots, and thus conduct the primary meetings.

ANOTHER APPLICANT FOR KNOWLEDGE.

Mr. Keeler also desired information in regard to the modus operandi of the primary meetings.

TROUBLE APPREHENDED.

The delegate from the Eighth ward said there were fears of interruption at their polls. They could hold the meeting on the sidewalk for that matter, but he wanted to know what was recognized.

Mr. Campbell had heard of threats and thought it best to prepare for war in time of peace.

HOW TO DO IT.

Eventually the inquirers were instructed to proceed according to the "call" and "circular," and if interfered with at the polls to adjourn to some other convenient locality, but to be sure and send delegates.

"CONDITIONS" NOT INSISTED UPON.

It was also stated that the conditions, such as signing the call and other provisions, need not be insisted upon unless there was an attempt to control affairs by unfriendly parties.

NO ADDRESS PREPARED.

A call was now made for a report of the Committee on Address.

Mr. Carnahan, chairman, said he had not had time to prepare one.

Mr. Keeler said he had written one, but didn't like to read it until revised by Mr. Carnahan. It was not read.

ALL THE MONEY THEY WANT.

Mr. Kirk now arose and announced that a very important report had been made during the meeting which should not be forgotten. The Finance Committee reported they had all the money they needed.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

Chairman of that Committee—Mr. Kirk misunderstands me a little. I did not mean we had all the money, but that it could be had.

Mr. Kirk—Oh, well! that's all the same.

The meeting then adjourned.

EDUCATIONAL.

Meeting of the Central Board—Report of the School Faculty on the Admission of Pupils to the High School.

A special meeting of the Central Board of Education was held yesterday, Friday, July 1st, 1870, at two o'clock, for the purpose of taking action on the report of the Faculty of the High School on the examination of candidates for admission so the High School.

Members present—Messrs. Anderson, Clark, Craig, Fleming, Getty, Hamilton, Harrison, Hartman, Mays, Nobbs, Sims, Taylor and President Wilson.

REPORT OF THE FACULTY.

Mr. Sergeant, the Secretary, read the report of the Faculty, as follows:

On motion of Mr. Nobbs the report was received.

PITTSBURGH, July 1, 1870.

To the Central Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN: According to your appointment, the Faculty of the High School held an examination of candidates for admission on the 27th and 28th days of June last, at the Grant School House. I herewith submit a tabular statement of the markings on the performances estimated in per cent.

From this table it appears that holders of the following card numbers have passed the conditions of admission, namely: have obtained averages of fifty per cent. on all except spelling, on which they have obtained sixty per cent. or more:

5, 7, 9, 14, 15, 23, 26, 30, 31, 37, 40, 41, 53, 56, 57, 60, 61, 72, 78, 82, 83, 87, 88, 89, 90, 111, 112, 119, 120, 125, 132, 135, 140, 148, 149, 154, 156, 158, 187, 188, 192, 194, 195, 200, 201, 203, 204, 206, 208, 210, 217, 222, 227, 231, 237, 239.

The following were deficient on one study: 1, 11, 17, 18, 21, 22, 36, 45, 48, 58, 62, 66, 67, 69, 80, 84, 85, 91, 101, 102, 104, 108, 114, 120, 124, 130, 131, 134, 136, 137, 143, 152, 153, 157, 162, 163, 166, 170, 185, 191, 197, 202, 207, 218, 223, 230, 235, 236.

The following were deficient on two studies: 37, 42, 49, 54, 64, 65, 68, 71, 76, 77, 79, 81, 86, 105, 122, 127, 128, 129, 137, 144, 151, 165, 172, 173, 174, 177, 181, 183, 184, 190, 193, 196, 198, 205, 215, 226, 229, 233, 234.

The Faculty are of opinion that it would not be very objectionable to admit without re-examination those of these last two lists, whose averages are 40 or more on those studies on which they are reported deficient.

The delegations from several schools were distinguished on this examination for the remarkable exactness and correctness in the preparation of their manuscript. It is to be hoped that there will hereafter be more attention paid to this important element of good scholarship.

Accompanying this report was a tabular statement of the result of the examinations, there being 241 applicants.

Mr. Nobbs moved that those having passed the examination be admitted.

Mr. Craig moved as an amendment that the report be referred to a special committee of three in connection with the City Superintendent.

Mr. Nobb moved as an amendment that the committee be instructed to examine only as to residence of candidates for admission to the school. Lost.

The question then recurred on the motion of Mr. Craig, to refer the entire report to the committee, which was adopted by a vote of ten yeas to three nays. The chair appointed Messrs. Craig, Nobbs and Taylor on the committee.

Mr. Hamilton moved a suspension of the rules in order to take up other business. Adopted.

Mr. Hamilton stated that some of the schools had closed before the time prescribed by the Central Board, and moved the appointment of a standing Committee on Vacations. Adopted.

Mr. Hamilton asked for an additional teacher in the "Forbes" sub-district.

A number of other applications were made, but as the Board had established a rule for the increase of teachers at a previous meeting, the application was decided out of order.

On motion adjourned.

FRIDAY, July 1.—Wm. Hemming vs. steamboat "J. D. Johnson." [illegible] petition to intervene with bill of particulars was filed.

The case of Campbell vs. the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railroad Company, previously reported, was resumed and submitted to the jury.

ON HIS TRAVELS.

A Swindler's Operations—The Old Game.

Yesterday morning Deputy Mayor Irwin, of Allegheny, was shown a check for $14.50 drawn by S. L. [illegible], to the order of J. R. Dodds, upon the Central Bank of this city. It was endorsed by S. Minnice, and had been given to a storekeeper by a man who had purchased four dollars' worth of groceries. He left the groceries, after getting his change, stating he would call again. The check was worthless, as it subsequently proved, and the man has not returned. It was simply a revival of the old game, and it is said the fellow has been practicing it extensively for several days in Allegheny. Storekeepers should look out for him. He is described as a tall, sandy haired, good looking gentleman, sporting in linen clothing. The amount realized has been quite large and it is probable he has cleared out now.

GERMANS AND THE FOURTH.

Procession and Pic Nic.

Our German citizens are making great preparations for the celebration of the Fourth. They have arranged for a grand procession and pic nic, while innumerable private entertainments will mark the day. The procession will be formed of twelve societies, including the Turners, Red Men, Seven Wise Men, Singing Societies, American Protestant Association and others. It will form at Turner Hall, and after proceeding over the principal streets of both cities, march to Iron City Park where a pic nic is to be held. The exercises at the Park will be opened with addresses by Josiah Cohen, Esq., speaking in English, and Revs. C. Schilling and [illegible] in German. Then the remainder of the day will be devoted to general festivities. The celebration promises to be one creditable in every respect.

New Clock.

Mr. W. G. Dunseath has just ornamented the front of his establishment, Fifth avenue, just below the Opera House, with a new clock, mounted in walnut, and standing out in relief from the building. Pedestrians up and down the street can see the time, as well as along that thoroughfare all the way. [illegible] this improvement. Mr. Dunseath exhibits his enterprise inside his store by having on hand a judiciously selected and fine assortment of watches, clocks, jewelry and optical goods—excelled by no other house in the trade.

Mechanics' National.

This time-honored, ever-reliable and well-managed institution, announces in to-day's paper to its stockholders a dividend of seven per cent., payable by the 12th instant. With its capital of five hundred thousand dollars, surplus fund of two hundred and ninety-one thousand, and a net contingent fund of about two hundred thousand dollars, its stock is looked on as being among the very best in the city. May it do as well in the future as it has done in the past.

BEAVER.

Annual Sermon—Addresses by Rev. A. J. Endsley and Burt—Commencement Exercises.

Commencement week of the Beaver Female Seminary and Musical Institute, always sets the staid and order-loving community of Beaver, agog. Circumstances this year combined to render the Fifteenth Commencement unusually pleasant and interesting, and this delightful condition of things was apparent throughout the week, ending Thursday night.

Sunday evening last, Rev. Wm. H. Locke, A. M., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, preached the annual sermon, in the Presbyterian Church, founding his discourse upon the parable of the talents. It was a very creditable performance and served to show the fine pulpit talents of this young and popular minister. Mr. Locke, we note with pleasure, will shortly occupy the position of Professor of English Literature at the Seminary. Tuesday evening the Annual Address was delivered by Rev. A. J. Endsley, of Canton, Ohio, subject, "Character." It was an excellent production, full of sturdy thoughts, and calculated to leave a fine impression, as well as to be a source of instruction. The next public performance was the address of Rev. S. Burt, A. M., formerly a resident of Beaver, and latterly of Pittsburgh, to the Alumnae of the Seminary. The well known ability of this young minister was not tarnished by the effort. During each day the usual examination of the classes took place, to the credit of the teachers and pupils. Vocal and instrumental music are among the specialties of the institution. Professor Beuter, in charge of the latter, is quite an enthusiast in the musical power. Mrs. Taylor, wife of the President, is a splendid singer, and the young ladies under her instruction rapidly acquire the "divine art." Her genial manners and unwearied diligence tends to bring forward the pupils rapidly.

The crowning event, however, was the performance of the graduating class, in the spacious audience chamber of the new Methodist Episcopal church. The young ladies who graduated, namely: Miss Sallie Woodruff, St. Clairsville, Ohio; Miss Miriam Wilson, Bridgewater, Pennsylvania; Miss Cora Ewers, Belmont, Ohio; Miss Amelia Moorhead, Bridgewater, Pennsylvania; Miss Irene Barr, Bridgeport, Pa., who pronounced the Valedictory Addresses. Throughout the exercises, vocal and instrumental music filled up the auditorium, consisting of choruses, songs by select vocal class, piano and organ duets and solos, which had a delightful effect upon the audience. The address to the graduates by Rev. D. P. Lowray, pastor of the Presbyterian church, we did not hear, as we had not arrived before this pleasure could be enjoyed; but the well known ability of this speaker is assurance enough that it was able, scholarly, and appropriate.

The performers occupied seats on the rostrum running across the room, from right to left, while the Trustees, ministers and distinguished visitors were seated on the right. Among the Board of Trustees was Hon. Daniel Agnew, of the Supreme Court, who is President of the Board. Hon. J. F. Dravo, of Beaver, Cyrus Clarke, Esq., of New Castle, Dr. J. W. F. White, of Pittsburgh, Rev. J. Murray, of Bridgewater, Revs. W. Long, J. Bray, Sr., J. Grant, W. C. P. Hamilton, J. K. Miller, were also present. The toilet and gay apparel of the ladies, adorned the lighted chamber, with the inspiring exercises, rendered the occasion a splendid success. President Taylor and his faculty have devoted himself, with assiduous care, to the best interests of the Seminary in his charge, and now he is very justly reaping a rich fruitage of honor, from the reputation it has attained as an institution of learning. During vacation, we learn, the large and spacious Seminary building will be occupied by summer visitors, until the next term, September 13th.

A SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE.

The Real Estate Register—Its New Quarters.

The Pittsburgh Real Estate Register for July, a monthly journal devoted to real estate interests, published by Croft & Phillips, the enterprising Real Estate Agents, comes to us considerably enlarged as to the quantity of matter it contains and improved in appearance generally. The Register is now in the fourth year of its publication only, yet notwithstanding its extreme youth, it has attained a success fully equal to the most sanguine expectations of its publishers. Four years ago it was an experiment, and although it was only published quarterly, many predicted its failure and feared that it was a losing speculation on the part of its publishers. It is now published monthly, circulates in every city, town and hamlet in the United States and is the acknowledged medium for advertising real estate. The publishers are men of enterprise and through the means of the Register have increased their business to a greater extent than they ever anticipated. The Register affords facilities to the purchaser and advantages to the seller as an advertising medium which he can obtain through no other source. Each number contains a full and complete description of all property placed in the hands of the publishers for sale, and being the leading real estate agents in Western Pennsylvania, of course the list is not a small one, and to each and every description is appended the price at which the property can be purchased. Purchasers at a distance are therefore enabled to obtain a knowledge of such property as suits them by merely referring to the Register. Persons having property to sell are offered advantages for advertising the same on a more extensive scale through the Register than by any other medium, as it is circulated gratis in all parts of the country, and in addition to this it is published in a form which warrants its preservation for a much greater length of time than ordinary newspapers and periodicals are preserved. In looking over a copy of the Register yesterday we noticed that owing to their increasing business, the publishers have removed from their former place of business to more commodious quarters in the Commercial building, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, and in their new quarters [illegible]

How to Look Young—Sixteen.—Don't paint or use vile Hair Restorers, but simply apply Hagan's Magnolia Balm upon your face, neck and hands, and use Lyon's Kathairon upon your hair. The Balm makes your complexion pearly, soft and natural, and you can't tell what did it. It removes freckles, tan, sallowness, ring-marks, blotches, etc.; and in place of a red, rustic face, you have the marble purity of an exquisite belle. It gives to middle age the bloom of perpetual youth. Add these to a splendid head of hair produced by the Kathairon, and a lady has done her best in the way of adornment. Brothers will have no spinster sisters when these articles are around. T-Th-s

Ladies, go to Moorhead's previous to your departure for the seaside or the fashionable summer resorts and get one of his exquisitely beautiful sea shawls. A full supply of the latest novelties in fans will also be found at the same place. Then too, ribbons and laces, and parasols and fringes and gloves and hosiery, and a hundred other toilet articles of the finest quality at Moorhead's, No. 81 Market street.

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE.

Business for the Month of June—Number of Cases—Receipts from Fines, &c.

The following is an abstract of the business done at the Mayor's office during the month of June, 1870, showing the number of cases disposed of, and the receipts from fines, licences, &c., which were paid into the City Treasury during the same period:

NUMBER OF CASES.

Disorderly Conduct	253
Drunkenness	377
Vagrancy	37
Informations	53
Total	720
Of the above there were discharged	96

RECEIPTS.

Following are the receipts from the several sources named:

Fines and Forfeitures	$1,059.75
Jail Receipts	200.00
Night Police	243.45
Dramatic License	110.00
Wilkins Hall (Rent)	35.00
Total	$1,657.20
Receipts for June 1869	$1,455.45
Increase for June 1870	$201.65

COMMITTED TO WORK HOUSE.

Twenty-four persons were committed to the work house for disorderly conduct. One for habitual drunkenness and four for vagrancy.

WHISKY FINES.

In addition to the above receipts $274 were paid to the Guardians of the Poor, the proceeds of fines for selling liquor on Sunday.

DEPUTY MAYOR NICHOLS.

The following is the report of the business at Deputy Mayor Nichols' office during the same time: Total number of cases 103; 40 paid fines; 5 sent to the Work House; 10 to jail; $185 paid into City Treasury.

SUPPOSED INCENDIARY.

Arrested on Suspicion, but Subsequently Discharged.

Yesterday morning about 2 o'clock the Allegheny police arrested a man prowling about the new building on the corner of Sandusky and Ohio streets, Allegheny. He was carrying a lot of matches and candles, and they supposed him to be intent upon incendiarism. He explained he had gone into the building to look for some pigeons which had taken roost there, and he certainly had no intention of burning or destroying the premises. The Mayor subsequently held him in $1,000 bail for a hearing [illegible]. Fire Marshal Butler was on hand, and no evidence was produced implicating the man in any criminal attempt, and he was accordingly discharged.

Summer Clothing.

The oppressive weather of the past few days has developed a great demand for summer clothing. People have discovered that it is much more healthful as well as comfortable to array themselves in reasonable garments and lay aside that which they have worn in cooler weather. Of course in making the change the same principle is considered that no clothing that does not fit will be comfortable or look well. Young gentlemen or boys contemplating a change can be supplied [illegible] if they will but only patronize Hespenhide & Co., No. 50 Sixth street.

Ice Cream and Refreshments.

Since his enlargement, there is no better place in Allegheny to procure ice cream and refreshments than at Wm. A. Rhodes', No. 28 Western avenue, one square west of the Park. The proprietor of the establishment, a thorough confectioner with long experience, is always cordial to please the taste of his patrons, and hence has scores of friends in that line. While walking through the Park, it is but the work of a moment to turn aside and partake of refreshments at Rhodes'—and refreshments in the highest sense of the term they are, too. Candies, cakes, nuts, fruits, ice cream and pastry at Rhodes are fit for the palate of a king. Remember 28 Western avenue.

The Girard House, Allegheny, will receive a few more boarders. Located corner of Isabella and Robinson streets, one of the best stopping places in the cities for either transient or permanent boarders. For a quiet, clean and homelike hotel we can heartily recommend the Girard House. Mr. G. Lightcap, the genial proprietor, has had long experience in the business and knows what will please.

Bathing Drawers.—Fancy bathing drawers at the New Stand Stocking Store, No. 30 Fifth avenue. JNO. DEGELMAN & CO.

What mattered it yesterday that the rain came down in torrents and traveling through the streets was of the most disagreeable character. Liebler had just what his many patrons desired—a first class strong, stylish trunk, which no baggage smasher could affect. That is the reason his store was so crowded, and why it always presents a scene of busy activity.

Dr. Pierce's Alterative Extract, or Golden Medical Discovery is the greatest known remedy for scrofula, pimples, blotches, and cures consumption in its early stages, and all severe and lingering coughs. Sold by druggists, [illegible] to R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., [illegible]

The Fourth of July comes next Monday and Holtzheimer at the Continental, Fifth avenue, will celebrate the event by setting a royal dinner at the Continental—prominent among the delicacies of which will be Green Sea Turtle Soup. Think of it. Be sure and be on hand.

The Continental, Fifth avenue, below the Postoffice, with its green sea turtle soup for dinner to-day, is sure to be a rallying ground for the hungry.

There was only one hundred and eighty-seven pounds of the green sea turtle [illegible] at the Continental, Fifth avenue, to-day.

Go to the Continental to-day for a rich, rare, and juicy dish of green sea turtle soup.
